NTSB RELEASES INFO

The National Transportation Safety Board says a crack was found in a fusion joint of the gas main pipeline of a house that exploded in DuBois a week ago. Gas was found under the home and driveway of another home Friday, but it is believed that that is residual gas from the first leak, not a new leak. Dave Roush reports that all gas mains are being replaced.

Mayor Donato Zucco – Johnstown

8/25/04, 6 PM Wednesday Mark Allen

HIGHWAY HISTORY

Why is the city of Johnstown not located on a major roadway and constantly fighting for money to maintain the roads that lead to the city? The problem stems from a situation that developed over fifty years ago when Johnstown was bypassed in the mid fifties. Consolidation efforts back then with surrounding communities would have made a tremendous difference at a time when major interstate construction was paramount. Mark Allen reports.
